QUALITY ASSURANCE
(UKRAINE)

Dear colleagues,

My warmest congratulations to SGH Warsaw School of Economics on its 120th anniversary, and to its Rector and distinguished leader, Professor Piotr Wachowiak!

The history of SGH deserves to be studied and taught in its own right within the broader context of European intellectual and cultural development. Today, however, more than ever, the European academic community needs solidarity grounded in humanistic and civilisational values, as well as in the principles of cooperation, mutual understanding, and shared responsibility.

You and SGH play a distinctive role in this endeavour, fostering dialogue and shared understanding, advancing pioneering economic ideas, and translating them into practical action. Your longstanding contribution to Ukraine's pro-European development is widely recognised, particularly in the fields of education and culture, as well as in human resource management—an area in which you, Professor Wachowiak, are a distinguished European scholar of considerable standing.

We particularly value our cooperation within the Erasmus+ project Alumni Management Excellence: Building University Capacity for Sustainable Graduate Engagement (ALMEX), which brings together partners from Ukraine and European Union countries to develop sustainable models of engagement between universities and their alumni. For NAQA, this partnership is also highly important from the perspective of quality assurance in higher education, as meaningful alumni engagement contributes to the continuous improvement of study programmes and helps ensure their relevance to the needs of society and the labour market.

I sincerely wish SGH Warsaw School of Economics many more decades of intellectual leadership, bold ideas, and successful European partnerships. And to you, Professor Wachowiak, I wish continued inspiration and every success in advancing SGH and bringing Europe's academic communities ever closer together.

Head  Prof. Dr. NATALIIA STUKALO
